Customisable Roundup Automations

Going beyond simple banking roundups on purchases, Arctaurus offers a solution that gives users complete automated control over their finances using triggers such as purchasing habits, account balances and user set goals, to increase financial resilience for individuals and banks.

The Editor loads as a split screen, which allows adding important personal information to the system. This can be worked through with a branch employee to help set targets and goals as well as establish their expenses.

For convenience it can also be collapsed into a full screen editor view for building the automation.

The Setup page allows non-technical users to assign personal details, assigning all neccessary values such as linking bank accounts, contact information, setting goals and limits etc.

All the information stored in the setup page will be imported into blocks to be referenced as part of the saving automations logic (e.g. if Goal met, if account balance less than x)
